

Dear Parents/ Guardians, Boys and Girls,

I hope you and your families are continuing to stay well.

I know you are all working very hard and your class teacher has set work for you so these are just some additional ideas if you want to try them.

Don't feel under any pressure to complete all.

Please remember that there is lots to be learned by helping at home also.

It would be really great if you could read for about 20 minutes every day. This can be from one of your school books such as 'Read at Home' or any book of your choice or you might like to read a story for a younger brother or sister.

Please continue to work on your tables daily too. As I mentioned before you can use www.theschoolhub.ie or some games on the topmarks website(www.topmarks.co.uk) to practise if you have access to them, if not don't worry say your tables aloud or try writing them out at home.

If you have access to the cjfallon website www.cjfallon.ie Master your Maths 3 is a very good resource. There are daily activities that cover a wide range of topics.

I am attaching two reading comprehensions if you would like to try reading them and answering the questions and another worksheet on capacity.

Thank you and best wishes,

M. Hogan.
